

I feel the warm
embrace of spirit
flowing into me
from somewhere
I can't see. There is love here, arising inside me as naturally
as the sky brightens
before dawn – love
enough to fill all of us,
and more besides.
The spontaneous grace
of the divine is moving through the universe, unfazed by fear or
obstacles of any kind.
Yes, it's clear
there is love there.

--Danna Faulds

